Opportunities in Kirklees for students with severe or profound learning difficulties

Welcome

What Next? has been written by C&K Careers for students with severe and profound learning difficulties who are in their last year at school in Kirklees.

What Next? provides students, parents and carers with clear, unbiased information about the options available when leaving school at 19 years of age within Kirklees.

The booklet

- is a directory of adult opportunities in Kirklees
- explains the basic details about transition and funding
- highlights some of the issues to consider when choosing an opportunity.

This booklet will be helpful to Castle Hill School, Fairfield School, Hollybank Trust, Kirklees College, C&K Careers and the Specialist Adult Pathway Team in Social Services, to support students, parents and carers through the transition planning process.

What Next? can also be found on www.ckcareersonline.org.uk the C&K Careers' website, with links to all the websites mentioned. You may find that the schools and Kirklees College also have the web versions on their websites.

The map opposite shows the locations of providers so that you can compare distances from your home area.

There may be other opportunities. Talk to your careers adviser, as they may know of an opportunity which could be just right for you.

About the ELMS at Hollybank Trust

For over 60 years Hollybank has been nurturing, developing and enriching the lives of children, young people and adults who have complex physical, sensory, communication, learning and health needs. We focus on ability not disability.

At our newly developed facility, the ELMS (Enrichment, Learning, Multi-Sensory Development & Socialising), we provide daytime activities for adults from the wider community, as well as Hollybank. The ELMS is able to cater for the individual's needs with specialised equipment, hoisting and fully trained ELMS staff.

Most activities take place within the ELMS at our Roe Head site, but some additional activities take place in the wider community such as sailing at Otley, ice skating at Sheffield or using the climbing wall at Huddersfield Climbing Centre.

Please look at our website for more information about all our services, including residential short breaks and longer term options.

Activities include: photography, computer games, music, iMuse, sensory and dark rooms, art, wheelchair dancing, gardening, crafts, design and enterprise, interactive story telling. All activities are planned around your needs, ability and how you communicate and can include assistive technology and sensory approaches.

If it is right for you, you will be supported in travel training.

Transition and funding

Transition means 'moving on'.

During your last year at school (Year 14) a plan will be developed with you to make sure the activities you will do when you leave school are interesting and enjoyable and that you get the support you need. Your parents and carers will need to think carefully about the various forms of financial support you will need to help you achieve your plans for the future.

You should...

- Attend 'Moving On' or 'What Next?' events in school.
- Attend reviews and leavers planning meetings with your parents and carers, along with Social Services, C&K Careers, SENACT and your teacher.

Already receiving funded services from Social Services?

An Assessment of your needs will already be underway through your Specialist Adult Pathway Team social worker You need to contact Gateway to Care to be assigned to either a social worker or a 'care navigator' to help you choose the most appropriate services

The Social Services Assessment of Need is essential in order to access a Personal Budget

- Not all young disabled people will be eligible for an assessment or funded services.
- Make visits to colleges and other providers find out about costs.
- Check whether any equipment you currently use will be going with you.

Even if you plan to go to college (3 days a week) an assessment of your needs is crucial as you may wish to get funding for activities to occupy some of the rest of your week.

Further information from

What's my next step?

It's important to visit providers to see the facilities and what they do.

Think about what is important to you before you go on a visit and ask lots of questions!

How far is the provider from my home?

How will I travel there?

Is transport provided and how much will it cost?

What are the daily charges? Are there any extra charges?

How is the day divided up? How will I spend my time?

Can anyone help support and maintain my communication aid?

Is there any IT equipment of the type I am using in school?

Will there be someone to help me with any personal care I may need?

Will I be able to get around the building easily?

Will I need to pay for an additional Personal Assistant?

Remember to discuss all this with your social worker and the providers to ensure you get the support you need. If you have concerns - voice them.
